CITY TRUSTEES

Property Owners Want Louise Street Bridge Protected—Specifications for Fire Apparatus Approved

The last meeting of the year opened with all members in attendance. The report of Deputy Marshal Everett was received and referred to public works committee.

Bids for a motorcycle for the street superintendent were received from representatives of the Indian, Harley-Davidson, Excelsior and Thor. That of the Indian was accepted at $215.

Mr. Arthur Campbell, representing the Miradero and the Consolidated Water Company, appeared and made a plea for an exemption from the terms of the ordinance controlling rules of water companies to connections, presenting arguments from the company's point of view as to why they should be allowed to charge $15 for connections. The board took no action, the disposition of the members apparently being to uphold the ordinance.

A communication was presented by Sidney Dell signed by himself and about forty-five others, requesting that some work be done in the wash above the Louise street bridge for its protection from damage by storm water; referred to public works committee.

A request for the privilege of shooting gophers was received and denied.

The finance committee reported the auditing of city accounts about completed by Mr. Ernest B. Morgan.

The street superintendent having last week requested the sum of $100 for work for the protection of the Louise street bridge, the public works committee was granted further time to look into the matter.

Resolutions ordering the improvement of Central avenue, Doran street and Dryden and Campbell street.

Ordinances were adopted ordering the opening and widening of Doran and Orange streets.

Specifications for fire apparatus were read and adopted.

The city attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance declaring that the city shall have authority to do the filling in of excavations made in the streets by gas, water companies, etc., at a charge of 25 cents or less per linear foot.

The street superintendent was authorized to purchase a tar kettle not to exceed $100.

PALMER-WALES.

On Christmas Day, Dec. 25, near the noon hour on West Fifth street, Glendale, there was a pleasant wedding occasion when Miss Hazel Ella Palmer of Woodward, Oklahoma, and Mr. Bert Harold Wales of Glendale, Cal., were united in marriage in the presence of a number of invited friends. A large number of beautiful and appropriate gifts were presented consisting of silverware and articles contributing to the comfort of a home. After hearty congratulation from friends the company enjoyed a most bountiful noonday meal. The table presenting the beauty found only on happy wedding occasions, beautiful in appearance and abundantly satisfying to hunger. A pleasant dwelling had been provided by the groom and every comfort invited the young bride to her new surroundings. With the many warm well-wishes of a large circle of friends this bride and groom enter upon the journey of life, hopefully and rejoicing, fully realizing the bountiful love and mercy of the Lord.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR FIRE APPARATUS.

These specifications are for "Motor propelled auto chemical engine and hose wagon" to be of the latest design, not less than 50 horsepower, sufficient to drive the apparatus fully equipped with eight men on a 5 per cent grade at the rate of 20 miles an hour and to climb a 21 per cent grade on the low gear at 5 miles an hour. To carry 1000 feet of 2½-inch fire hose, two forty-gallon chemical tanks, two hundred feet of one-inch chemical hose on reel, two three-gallon fire extinguishers, one twenty-foot extension ladder, one ten-foot roof ladder and other equipment.

A party of Glendale young people under the chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Riggs walked to Pasadena Wednesday morning to see the Tournament of Roses. The party was composed of the Misses Laura Harkness, Ada Kenyon, Gladys Lampert, Lulu Beldin; Messrs. Melson Sprinkle, George Potter, Lawrence Chandler and C. Clifford Riggs.

RECORDER'S COURT

Various Fines Collected, Principally from Speeders—A Case of Milk Adulteration

The recorder's court, presided over by Judge Whomes, is constantly growing in importance. As noted before, this is one of the city offices that more than pays its way, all of the fines received being turned into the city treasury, the recorder receiving three dollars a case as compensation. For the month of December there were 19 cases handled, mostly for infringements on the speed law. The sum of $148 has been collected with $20 more to be added unless a guilty speed fiend prefers to serve as many days in the county jail, which is unlikely.

Sunday is a good day for the city marshal who generally brings in two or three victims, last Sunday getting four of them, two auto and two motorcycle speeders who were making 35 miles an hour or more on Verdugo road, now a favorite speedway. They were assessed $15 apiece. One of them was from Alhambra, the others from Los Angeles. Two plain "drunks" were among the victims of the recorder, each giving up the sum of $10.

The most important case coming up recently was that of MacMullin, accused by State Dairy Inspector Hasson of milk adulteration. The complaint was sworn to before the district attorney in Los Angeles Dec. 26, and the warrant sent to the recorder's office here for execution. The gist of the complaint is found in the concluding paragraph, "which milk was adulterated in that it contained added water and less than 8.5 per cent of solids not fat." The accused upon being telephoned to by the recorder, voluntarily appeared before the court. Mr. Hasson was also on hand and swore to the fact that he had had a bottle of the milk analyzed by the Los Angeles city chemist with the result that it showed 17 per cent of water, equivalent to one gallon in five. The defendant denied any knowledge of how the adulteration could have occurred, was of the opinion that it was the work of a discharged employe. Did admit, however, that the mixing of skim milk with fresh was sometimes practiced for the wholesale market, but not for the retail trade, and plead ignorance of the law prohibiting this. The judge called attention to the provisions of section 30 of General Laws which explicitly declares that "It shall be unlawful to sell skim milk not properly labeled." The judge informed the defendant that it was not necessary to plead immediately, but that time would be given to prepare a defense. In view of the fact that the inspector was present with appearently indisputable evidence, the accused entered a plea of "Guilty" and paid a fine of $50. Under the law this fine goes to the state. A city ordinance covering the case would have put three dollars into the recorder's pocket and netted the city $47.00.

CASA VERDUGO M. E. CHURCH.

The Christmas tree and program by the Sabbath school was an unusual success, everything being of highest order. The house is now beautifully lighted and is a very comfortable place to pass an evening. The Sabbath school is making a fine record. There are classes for all. Van V. Eddings, the superintendent, is a live wire and has splendid helpers.

Sunday school meets at 9:45; Junior League at 3:00; preaching at 11:00 and 7:00.

On Sabbath morning a New Year's sermon will be preached by the pastor.

We need you and we will help you if you will let us. The new school house for Casa Verdugo will soon be a fact. It is as it should be, the school and church go together for the good of all. In the church life much earnest work is being done by the few. A call for helpers is lovingly extended.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

There will be a special musical program at both morning and evening services. Mrs. Bergren will assist in several special mixed and ladies' quartet numbers.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

The services last Sunday were characterized by large congregations and much interest. The pastor's morning sermon took the form of a resume of the year's work, in which it appeared that sixty-two members had been taken into the church during the past year, twenty-nine by letter, twenty-three by baptism, and ten on Christian experience. The selections on the violin by Mr. Cecil Crandall in the evening were delightful.

The members of the advisory board with their wives are invited to meet the pastor and Mrs. Haines in the class rooms of the Philatheas and Queen Esthers Friday evening of this week. Both of the rooms have been nicely furnished with rugs by these classes of young ladies.

The services next Sunday will be of unusual interest. The Sunday school will assemble at 9:30 a. m. There are classes for all, and pleasant rooms for the study of the lesson. At 11 o'clock a memorial service in memory of Mr. W. P. Haber, who did so much on the soliciting committee to make the new building possible, will be held. This will be followed by the observance of the Lord's Supper, when the right hand of fellowship will be extended to new members. A pleasant surprise is awaiting those who attend the morning service. The regular meeting of the B. Y. P. U. will be held in the evening at 6:30, which will be followed by another popular Sunday evening service with special music, a prelude to the sermon on the question of "Possible Denominational Unity," and sermon by the pastor on the subject, "Last Year's Almanac." PARCELS POST

Went Into Effect January 1, 1913. New Stamp Issue, Rates and Regulations

The Glendale branch of the Los Angeles postoffice is in receipt of the Parcels Post stamps, in denominations from five cents up to seventy-five. The designs on the various denominations are artistic and strictly up to date in regard to subjects, manufactures, automobiling, aeroplaning, wireless telegraphy and other modern contrivances being the subjects chosen by the artists in their designs. Patrons must bear in mind that these special stamps must be attached to packages offered for transmission under the new law which is expected to help solve the "high cost of living" problem. No ordinary postage stamps will be received for these packages. All packages must be brought to the postoffice, not given to carriers or left in or on boxes. The limit in weight is eleven pounds, the charge on a package of this weight within the fifty-mile radius (local delivery excepted, that charge being 15 cents) is 35 cents. Over the 1800-mile radius the charge on the same package would be 1.32. The postage on a one-pound package begins with five cents for the first zone of fifty miles and increases at the rate of one cent for every one of the eight zones, so that the highest rate for one pound is 12 cents. The rate for a two-pound package for the same distance is 24 cents, on three pounds 36 cents, and so on with an increase of 12 cents for every pound. Liquids in general are prohibited as they always have been, but eggs may be carried when separately wrapped. Poultry, vegetables and fruits will also be carried when packed according to the rules of the department.

The tremendous work put upon the postoffice department by the new law in the way of preparation alone may be partially represented by the fact that every postoffice in the country had to be provided with a map showing the zones radiating from that point as a center.

SCOTCH GATHERING.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. David MacDonald, 414 S. Louise street Christmas day, a very enjoyable and happy Scotch gathering took place. The hostess prepared a very delightful repast including the following: Roast goose, chappit tatties and brown gravy, haggis stuffin and plum duff, and other Scotch viands. Scotch games were indulged in and keen interest was taken in the football match, the Fats versus the Leans. Scotch songs were sung and old Scotch music filled the air. The crowning event in the day's merriment was the stump speeches which were not only educating but amusing. The company included Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald, James Macdonald, Alex Macdonald, John Young, Philip Masterson, Mr. and Mrs. King Barton, Alex Crichton, and members of the Scotch Clan Cameron.

ASSEMBLYMAN-ELECT ROBERTS ELECTION CONTESTED.

J. M. Lampert of Glendale has filed charges contesting the election of W. A. Roberts to the assembly from this district. Mr. Lampert alleges that prior to the election Candidate Roberts invited to his office in the Security building in Los Angeles certain constables and justices of the peace promising in return for their support that he would, if elected, work in the legislature to secure an increase in their salaries. Mr. Roberts denounces the charges as false and absurd, denying that such a meeting took place.

A hearing will take place Jan. 15th before Justice Reeves, but the matter will have to come before the legislature also.

A MUCH NEEDED ORDINANCE.

The city of Glendale has upon its statute books possibly, ordinances which might be disepnsed with without any loss to the people within the municipality, but as to that there will naturally be differences of opinion. There should be no difference of opinion however as to the desirability of laws protecting in a practical way the public health. There are something like six thousand people in the city, all of whom use in one form or another an article which easily ranks among the necessities of life, and that is milk. This is supplied to the people by three or four dairies of considerable size and a half dozen dealers in a retail way. The city should not have to depend on county or state laws and officials to secure the purity of this article.

Not only should an ordinance be prepared and adopted guarding the supply in every practical way, but an inspector should be appointed whose particular duty should be to secure its enforcement and make regular and systematic tests of the milk supplied for daily use.

A TRIUMPH OF JUSTICE.

The conviction of 36 out of 40 indicted labor union leaders at Indianapolis, ought to have a wholesome effect all over the country in convincing the people that in the Federal courts at least, justice is not a farce and crime will be punished regardless of any consideration for wealth or position. The convicted men were not wealthy but they had practically unlimited means at their command for purposes of offense and defense. They were able to buy the services of a senator of the United States in their defense and other legal talent fully equal to that of the prosecution. But the facts were against them; every convicted man was proved to have had knowledge of the fact that dynamite was being carried from place to place by agents of the unions, contrary to law. Had the article transported been in itself harmless, their crime might have been looked upon with leniency, but dynamite is used for but one purpose, that of destruction, and every man who knew of its being carried from place to place in suit cases and otherwise, could not fail to be cognizant of the criminal intentions of the men transporting it—could not but know that with it property was to be destroyed and quite probable human life.

When the fact of this guilty knowledge was legally proved, conviction was sure to follow in any court where justice ruled, and the sentences imposed have been none too severe. It is to be hoped that the men who had further guilty knowledge of the blowing up of the Times office may get still further punishment. Now that guilty labor union leaders have been exposed to such a wholesale extent, it is to be hoped that the unions will repudiate them and put in their places men who have not the law breaking instinct.

To assume that this prosecution was inspired by hatred of labor unionism is to do labor unions and their thousands of worthy members the greatest possible injustice and to put away further in the future the time when labor and capital shall meet on an equal basis and both be controlled by the spirit of fairness and tolerance.

OUR NATIONAL SIN—INDIFFERENCE TO THE DUTIES OF CITIZENSHIP.

"Our national, state and municipal sin is the indifference of the citizenship to the obligations of citizenship and unless that indifference can somehow be overcome democracy will belie the hopes of those who put their trust in it, and all will not be well with the world."

We are glad to find in the California Outlook an output so sane and conservative as the above. It is notable however that the opinion is only expressed after the cessation of a strenuous political campaign, during which time any person reading the Outlook might naturally have inferred from its editorial writings that the things necessary for a complete regeneration of the world were the election of certain favored candidates to public office and the passage of a job lot of laws labeled "Progressive." The contention of the "reactionaries" as it has pleased the "progressives" to term their opponents when not using a harsher term, has been from the beginning that the present fever of "reform" is only skin deep as far as any permanent good is concerned, that it leads to a reform of forms only, leaving the kernel of the matter untouched. The indifference of the majority to their civic duty may well be said to constitute the greatest danger to the republic. The form of government matters comparatively little if the great mass of the citizens are indifferent to the demands of civic duty. And if they consider that their duty to the state is performed when they shall have cast an unintelligent vote, the case is about as bad as it can be imagined and this latter condition is bound to result when campaigns are carried on upon a basis of sentiment and by appeals to prejudice, which may arouse a temporary interest but not even temporary wisdom. The many fads and fancies concerning theories of government that are now prevalent, are possibly in some inscrutable way serving a purpose which will in the end work out well for the world, when they shall all have been cast into one vast melting pot and the refined result shall be attainable, but at present they are apparently useful for the purpose of the demagogue rather than otherwise. The perfect government when it shall be attained, will rest upon perfect citizenship and upon no man-made automatic working scheme. And the uplifting of the individual is the best and wisest object towards which the lover of humanity may bend his energies.

PERSONAL—GENERAL AND SEASONABLE.

For six years past, since June 1st, 1907, the editorial department of this paper has been in charge of the present editor. Every editorial except the occasional reprints from other publications for which due credit has always been given, has been written by the same hand, and good, bad or otherwise, has emenated from the same brain. The files of the paper furnish a record of which we are not ashamed, nor are we unduly proud. But we do not recall any part of that record which we would wish to change; there has been no dodging of public issues and we have never hesitated to express an honest opinion on matters of general interest, although it has more than once been done with the full knowledge of its unpopularity.

By catering more to "public opinion" the NEWS might be enjoying today a greater measure of pecuniary success, but the editor would not be in the possesison of that which he values more, the approval of his own conscience and that of the friends who trust him.

Glendale has been making its own history in six years. At the beginning of 1907 it had been a city for less than a year, the business of being an independent municipality was only an experiment. There were many who still doubted the ability of the people to rule themselves wisely and the city officials had to struggle with many vexing problems. In practically all of their actions they had the support of this paper and in every important instance they have had it since. Our slogan from the beginning until it was finally accomplished, territorially, was "A Greater Glendale," and the Greater Glendale is here. We fought the good fight for a municipal lighting system and we have it today, a tangible asset, toward which we point with pardonable pride. We fought for a municipal water system and were for the time defeated, but the municipal water system will come, as have come the other good things for which we have struggled against strong opposition in the beginning.

The NEWS congratulates the people of Glendale on the bright prospects for the coming year and joins them in the hope that the splendid growth and progress of the young city thus far may be only a suggestion of the better things to come. Only one thing is necessary to assure success to the city as a whole and that is a civic spirit that will at all times rise superior to factions or sections and will have in mind always as a paramount object for which to strive—the welfare of the entire city. Here is the slogan for 1913—let us live up to it—

"For Glendale—All of Glendale."

THE MISSION PLAY.

On Monday of Christmas week in its own theater at San Gabriel, the 127th presentation of John Steven McGroarty's Mission Play opened the second season of this powerful pageant drama of Franciscan romance and glory. The production which will continue throughout the tourist season is again under the personal direction of Mr. Benjamin Horning than whom there is no abler director of dramatic art in the country. With a few exceptions the artists of last season's cast appear in this season's run and in the same roles. Mr. Benjamin Horning again appears in his original creation of Father Junipero Serra. His wonderful portrayal of this saintly missionary will live forever in the memory of everyone who saw it last season. Miss Lucretia del Valle, daughter of the Hon. R. F. del Valle of Los Angeles, is the Senora Josefa Yorba this season. Of Spanish-California ancestry on the paternal side, she brings to the part an atmosphere of the very people who brought Christianizing civilization to California. She is an emotional actress of very high attainments and is one of the very few in her profession whom the theatrical managers would risk starring with only one year's experience on the stage. The gown and jewelry worn by Miss del Valle have descended from her paternal grandmother, and used in the period of the third act. The shawl elaborately embroidered with roses in colors, brought to California from Japan, belonged to her great grandmother, and the wonderful head dress was worn in the early forties by her grandmother. The earings and brooch of jet in setting of old gold and the heavy gold bracelet came also from the same ancestress. The high boots were worn by her grandmother when she was eighteen and for some reason laid away in a mahogany chest after wearing them but once. The last is so small that they have remained in their wrappings for more than half a century awaiting some descendent with a diminutive foot; and they fit this clever granddaughter as neatly as did the little slipper on the foot of the fabled Cinderella.

A Mexican band and orchestra under the leadership of Senor R. S. Rochy of the City of Mexico gives open air concerts in the Mission Play gardens before each performance and between acts. In the great pageant scene of the second act there are Indian dancers and musicians from many North American tribes, Spanish singers and dancers. The cast numbers one hundred artists. It is the plan of the directors to have the same personnel from season to season, so the members of the cast will generally be known as the Mission players. It is much the same idea as in the Oberammergau of Europe. For more than a month a small army of workmen has been at work renovating the playhouse at San Gabriel. A modern heating plant has been installed so that no matter how inclement the weather, the patrons are assured warmth, and every other comfort that can be found in a metropolitan theater.

Fred A. and Gerald Conrad are visiting at the home of their mother, Mrs. Jessie Joseph, 644 Lincoln ave. The boys have just returned from Corinto, Nicaragua, where they were doing service during the revolution. The boys brought home many valuable curios and souvenirs of their experiences. They leave on Sunday for Mare Island, where they rejoin the gunboat Annapolis.

CHAPTER L OF P. E. O.

The next meeting of Chapter L will be held January 8th at 10:30 at the home of Mrs. John Hunchberger on Central avenue. Luncheon will be served at noon. The topic of the day is a Woman's Round Table; discussions will be carried on by Mrs. Randolph, Mrs. Pirtle, Mrs. Blackburn and Mrs. Lee.

HOW TO SERVE RABBITS.

THIS being the season when "Br'er Rabbit" contributes his plumpness to make the bill of fare attractive, a few recipes for cooking this toothsome animal will not be unappreciated.

Broiling is quite a favorite way of preparing game. Rabbits should be broiled forty minutes. For roasting about thirty minutes is necessary. Roast game is generally served with jelly and garnished with slices of lemon, watercress, parsley or potato chips.

In selecting a rabbit see that the body is firm, without odor. The flesh should look reddish. Old rabbits have stiff ears with rough edges and rough worn paws. Select a young rabbit in preference to an old one. Tame rabbits are seldom palatable.

Roast Rabbit.

To roast a rabbit proceed as follows: Clean the animal thoroughly. Put into a dripping pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper and spread with butter. Add a small onion and carrot sliced with water enough to cover the bottom of the pan.

Put this into a quick oven, basting often and adding more water if necessary. When done strain the gravy, and when the rabbit is served pour the gravy over it. Serve with cranberry sauce.

Stewed rabbit is a less rich dish than roasted rabbit. For stewing skin and clean the rabbit thoroughly, cut into pieces and prepare a stewpan by putting into it a quarter of a pound of butter. Let the butter melt and then place in it the pieces of rabbit. Turn them nicely until they are browned.

Take out of the pan and pour in a pint of boiling water, add a tablespoonful of flour which has previously been stirred to a paste in cold water, a little onion juice, a tablespoonful of salt, add the meat and let the rabbit stew until tender.

Rabbit Pie.

Rabbit pie is a dish that is a favorite in English households. The rabbit must be stewed and seasoned well. A deep baking dish is lined with puff paste or biscuit crust, and the rabbit is then placed in the dish covered with an upper crust and baked just like an ordinary chicken pie.

In fact, the cooking of rabbit is very similar to that of fowls, for it is fricasseed, stewed, larded or baked like chicken.

For a dressing put one cupful of sour cream into a basin. Stir in gradually half a cupful of melted butter, the juice of a lemon carefully drop by drop and the whisked whites of two eggs.

Fruit salad with mayonnaise or French dressing may always be served with game.

Anna Thompson.

POLITICAL COWARDICE.

The great vice of our people in their relation to the politics of the land is cowardice. It is not lack of intelligence. Our people know the meaning of political conditions with wonderful sagacity. It is not low morality. The great mass of our people apply high standards to the acts of public men. But it is cowardice. It is the disposition of one part of our people to fall in with current ways of working to run with the mass and of another part to rush headlong into this or that new scheme or policy of opposition merely to escape the stigma of conservatism. — Phillips Brooks.

Three Words of Strength.

There are three lessons I would write,
Three words as with a burning pen,
In tracings of eternal light
Upon the hearts of men:

Have hope. Though clouds environ round
And Gladness hides her face in scorn,
Put off the shadow from thy brow.
No night but hath its morn.

Have faith. Where'er thy bark is driven,
The calm's disport, the tempest's mirth.
Know this: God rules the host of heaven.
The inhabitants of earth.

Have love—not love alone for one,
But man as man thy brother call
And scatter, like the circling sun,
Thy charities on all.

Thus grave these lessons on thy soul,
Hope, faith and love, and thou shalt find
Strength when life's surges rudest roll,
Light when thou else wert blind.

—Johann C. F. Schiller.

A Quick Recovery.

A Cleveland lawyer and a Cleveland railroad man went to a theater in that city. The railroad man saw a flashily dressed, red faced, sporty looking citizen sitting in one of the boxes.

"WHO IS THE TOUGH PERSON?"

This man was the no account cousin of the attorney, but the railroad man did not know it.

"Who is the tough person sitting in the box?" the railroad man asked pleasantly. "He looks like a drunken burglar."

"That," said the attorney, "is my cousin."

The railroad man gasped a couple of times, but soon got a grip on himself and remarked genially, "Well, I went straight to headquarters for information, didn't I?"—Saturday Evening Post.

Teaching Him His Place.

A man who was traveling in the mountains stopped at a cabin and asked for a drink of water. An old woman brought it out to him, and after drinking he had quite a talk with her, telling her great stories about some of the wonders he had seen in the outside world.

Finally when he stopped to take breath the old woman took the pipe out of her mouth and said:

"Stranger, if I knowed as much as you do I'd go som'ers and start a little grocery."—Everybody's.

A King Who Would Be Loved.

An eccentric monarch was Frederick the Great, whom his subjects called "Old Fritz." One day in passing along the streets of Berlin he noticed that a man left the sidewalk as he approached and crossed over to the other side of the street. The king called him back and asked why he had done so.

The poor fellow began to tremble and stammered, "Because—you are—the king, and I—am afraid of you."

"Afraid of me!" shouted the monarch. "I don't want my subjects to be afraid of me, but to love me. I will teach you a lesson." And he began to beat the man with his cane, crying out:

"Next time when you meet me don't cross the street, but greet me with eyes that betoken love. Do you understand?"

And the unlucky culprit, cringing beneath the vigorous blows of the royal walking stick, promised that he would not fear but love the king.

The Creation. Gen. 1:1—II:3.

Golden Text—In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. Gen. 1:1.

(1.) Verses 1-2 — What certain evidence have we, other than the Bible, that the world had a beginning?

(2.) Granted that the world had a beginning, what can you say for its origin other than it must have had an intelligent creator? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(3.) What is the evidence that the earth is of the nature of a growth or a development from one stage to another?

(4.) After the earth was once organized in a crude form did God complete it by direct acts or was it developed from its own, God-created, inherent laws?

(5.) Verses 3-5—Would you say or not, and why, that there was no light in God's universe until after the earth was created?

(6.) What would the earth have been if there had been no light?

(7.) What is it that makes our day and night?

(8.) Suppose it should prove to be a fact that the sun, our only source of light, was in existence millions of years before the creation of our earth how would that affect the credibility of this story in Genesis?

(9.) Verses 6-8—What is the original element without air pressure out of which water is formed?

(10.) If the word "firmament" here used may practically be taken to mean the air space around the earth show how these verses harmonize with science.

(11.) In how many places and in what different conditions is water to be found?

(12.) Verses 9-10 — From this statement and from the story of geology what method did God take to form the earth and the sea?

(13.) When God through the convulsions of the earth forms the mountains, the valleys and the great deeps which contain the water we call seas is it right to ascribe the work direct to God? Why?

(14.) Verses 11-13—What is the evidence that there was a time when the earth did not produce vegetation?

(15.) How can you account for the marvelous fact other than through an intelligent Creator that all vegetable seed has in itself the life principle of self propagation?

(16.) Verses 14-19—What makes our seasons, days and years?

(17.) Does it necessarily follow in order to the accuracy of this story that God actually created the sun, moon and stars at the time or that these luminous bodies became available for the first time to give light to the earth? Why?

(18.) Verses 20-25—What is the proof that there was a time when there was no animal life upon the earth?

(19.) Seeing the earth and the sea now teem with life, what cause was adequate to produce it?

(20.) Verses 26-28—What is the image of God, after which man was made?

(21.) How long did it probably take God to make man?

(22.) Verses 29-31—Did God originally plan for either man or beast to eat the flesh of other animals?

(23.) Chap. II:1-3 — What was God's original plan for the Sabbath day?

THE WEALTH OF LIFE.

There is no wealth but life—life including all its powers of love, of joy and of admiration. That country is the richest which nourishes the greatest number of noble and happy human beings. That man is richest who, having perfected the functions of his own life to the utmost, has also the widest helpful influence, both personal and by means of his possessions, over the lives of others.—Ruskin.

Killing a Devil.

Once a Saharan traveler was informed by one of his African escort that he had just killed a devil, which proved to be his master's watch that the savage had found, and, hearing it tick, concluded that there was an evil spirit inside. Accordingly he smashed the timepiece by hurling it against a tree.

Hard to Decide.

"How did that race between the zebra and the giraffe come out?" asked Little Jinks.

"It hasn't been decided yet," said Jorkins. "The giraffe's head came in two feet ahead of the zebra's, but his tail was three feet behind."—London Express.

THE BUFF WYANDOTTES.

Our Buff Dotte enthusiasts have sure been mixed up over the origin of their variety, for there was certainly much checker playing with different breeds before the present beautiful bird evolved.

It sure is a crackerjack composite.

Here are the different mixtures:

The first inventor made his Buffs of Silver Laced Dottes and Rhode Island Reds and crossed the result with Buff Cochins.

The second manufactured his of Golden Dottes and Buff Cochins.

The fourth used White and Golden Dottes and Buff Cochins, and the fifth crossed Gold and White Dottes, and the pullets recrossed with Golden Dottes.

All this happened in five years, from 1885 to 1890. After all this then the cruel contradictory chicken jury declares the present Buff Dotte is a scramble of White and Golden Dotte, Buff Cochins and Rhode Island Red.

And what a confusion and scrap over that word "buff!"

Some had lemon, others reddish brown, and still others had pumpkin colored birds and even grew two shades on the same bird, and each one claimed his birds to be buff, perfect buff.

The Standard settled the fuss by making it an even shade of rich golden buff in all sections.

Such golden birds, with their glossy neck, hackle back, wing bows, saddle and tail, their round rose comb, red eyes, face, ear lobes and wattles, their yellow beak and shanks and graceful curves—such birds are certainly beautiful and popular.

But they also excel in feathering fast and plumping up quick into fine yellow butter ball broilers, roasters and capons.

Then they are great winter layers. The rose comb and the long, thick, fluffy Cochin feathering afford protection against cold, and they also inherit the hardiness and laying qualities of their whole, wide, strong ancestry.

YOUTH'S BRAVERY SHAMES CROWD

Alone Among a Thousand Men, He Aids In Surf Rescue.

HELPS TO SAVE TWO LIVES.

Although a Germantown Lad Knows Nothing of Rowing, He Jumps Into Boat With Atlantic City Life Saver and Assists In Dragging Drowning Man From Breakers.

An eighteen-year-old youth shamed a thousand men and by his heroism averted a tragedy at Atlantic City recently.

About dusk a heavy, snarling sea ran, and except for the white caps the ocean to the horizon was the color of dirty mother-of-pearl. Uninviting as the water was, J. B. Mertz of Ninth and Green streets and Frank Link of Twelfth and Robinson streets, Reading, Pa., went in for a dip off New Jersey avenue. About fifty feet from the shore they were caught in the powerful offset of the tide that coils around the jetties of the new pier, says the New York World.

Finding himself in the grip of the current, Mertz, who is a good swimmer, realized the futility of battling with the eddy and let it carry him along. Link became panic stricken and fought so hard to reach shore that he was soon exhausted. Mertz, seeing his chum's peril, called for help. Penny and Parker, life guards, had a boat bobbing over the breakers in a jiffy, but they had not rowed thirty feet before a comber capsized the craft.

Life Saver Is Beaten Back.

As the two men went over the side Parker seized a can buoy and started for Mertz, who was in danger of being dashed to death against the concrete piling of the pier. Meanwhile Link was drowning. Penny had righted the boat, which had been swept back to the beach with him. Again and again he tried to launch the craft.

The first cry for help had brought more than a thousand persons to the beach. They lined the water's edge and watched with fascination the drowning Link and the efforts of Parker to save Mertz.

Manifestly Penny did not have the strength needed for the work. Aid was wanted at once, but not one of the men on the beach stirred.

Lad Comes to the Rescue.

Then through this impotent gathering sprang eighteen-year-old John T.

BY WADING INTO THE SURF THEY GOT THE BOAT OUT.

Crosson of Germantown, Pa. He had been attracted to the beach by the shouts. He never had had an oar in his hand, but he had courage. With out a word he joined Penny. A dozen times they got the boat out, only to be flung back on the beach. At last, by wading into the surf to their armpits, they got the boat out. Penny climbed aboard and dragged the lad in.

Without orders Crosson seized the second set of oars. He bungled, of course; but, encouraged and tutored by Penny, he pulled with all his strength. After a nerve racking five minutes they were near Mertz and Parker. The life saver signaled for them to get Link, who disappeared as the boat got alongside. Penny then dived and caught him. With Crosson's aid the unconscious man was dragged aboard and taken ashore. Meantime Parker had seized Mertz and handed him the life buoy. Then the guard, exhausted, sank. Mertz again shouted for aid. William Neely, twenty-one, and Romeo Martell, both of Philadelphia, leaped into the surf. Neely dived and caught Parker, while Martell seized Mertz.

Then a life guard, Leddy, ran out a life line, with which the men were dragged ashore. Young Crosson disappeared after he had given his name to the life guards.

PERIL IN HUNT OF IVORY SMUGGLERS

Inspectors Risk Lives to Prevent Illicit Traffic.

The story of the recent pursuit and killing of James W. Rogers, an American, for elephant poaching in central Africa is but one of the many tales that could be told of illicit ivory trading.

A superintendent of police in British East Africa tells in the Evening Sun of New York the following story of one of his experiences with ivory smugglers: "I had been in command of the Mombasa district police only a short time when one of my inspectors secured news of the approach of an unusually large caravan of ivory in charge of a notorious Arab who had been killing elephants on the Abyssinian borders for two years past. It meant much to us if we could capture the $20,000 caravan. Our native 'plain clothes policemen' failed to get any definite news as to the place and time of arrival, so my English inspector, Watcham by name, disguised himself as an Arab and after days of risking his life at last got on the trail of the ivory caravan. While sitting in an Arab coffee house he became suspicious of the travel stained Arabs. He followed them to the house of the Arab ivory smuggler, and there he heard the two give this message to a beautiful Arab woman: 'Greeting, O Alima,' said one. 'I come from your husband with a message. Tonight he is bringing the ivory near Juma's house in the swamp at the Makupa bridge, and he wants you to go with him tomorrow to see the place and then show it to the Indian merchants three nights hence, when a dhow will take it out to Zanzibar.'

"Watcham only by luck escaped detection after securing this wonderful piece of news. Needless to say we laid our plans in accordance. On the proper night we concealed ourselves in the swamp, and when we saw the Arab's wife and four men, each carrying tusks, come out of Juma's hut we knew that we had not been misled. While Watcham and four men took a position on the path by which the Arab smugglers must come from the dhow in the creek I and my men captured the woman, who had returned to the hut, and two Arabs. Shortly afterward Watcham and his man captured six Arabs, magnificent in their picturesque native finery.

"The woman after much persuasion and the promise of immunity showed us the hiding place of the precious hoard of tusks, and we soon had in our possession the large consignment of tusks which represented untold dangers that had been undergone in procuring it. The Arabs were sentenced to six months' hard labor and fines of 1,000 rupees each. The woman was allowed to go free."

Rides Whaleback at Sea.

Antone Sousa of Boston recently made himself the hero of the famous world's fishing center, T wharf, Boston harbor, by riding on the back of a whale far out at sea.

The schooner Louis R. Silva came in with a remarkable but said to be veracious tale. Forty miles southeast of Highland light the dorymen suddenly found themselves surrounded by a great school of whales, the most numerous ever seen in that part of the Atlantic. One mighty leviathan surged up under the dory in which were Sousa and a companion, and a twitch of the whale's tail smashed the boat.

Sousa leaped into the sea and landed on the back of the whale. He slid back and forth on the big, slippery surface while the whale sped along. After a ride of 200 yards Sousa slipped off close to the side of the schooner and was picked up by the crew.

CAUGHT A BEAR WITH A FISHHOOK

But Man Was Not at Other End of Line at the Time.

HARD TUSSLE IN WATER

Beast and Hunter Went Over Three Waterfalls Before Former Was Killed by Fall—Bruin Had Fine Appetite For Fish on River Bank Until He Struck Barb.

JOE SHOWERS, Colorado hunter and fisherman, one day went up to the headwaters of the Rio Grande to do some fishing. While perched on a rock he was about to take from his hook one of the biggest trout he had landed when something hit against the side of his head with such force that he was knocked into the pool below, says the Denver Field and Farm. When old Joe had got the water out of his eyes he saw one of the largest bears that those famous haunts had ever turned loose. The bear was eating Joe's trout.

The bear, having eaten the first trout that lay handy, next took up the one Joe was taking from the hook when he was swatted. The bear took a bite out of the big trout, and suddenly its lower jaw fell, and from the beast's depths came a powerful howl. The fishhook had curved itself somewhere in the bear's mouth, and every time the animal attempted to close its jaws it pushed the hook farther into the sensitive part, and so the jaws would fly open again.

Joe swam ashore, clambered up one side of the rock and picked up a big stone. The fish line hung out of the bear's open mouth. "Ef I'd er did wa't I jes' otter did," Joe said when telling about it, "I'd a tuck up that 'ar fesspole o' mine en played that 'ar 'tarnal varmint."

Joe Tried to Get Closer.

However, instead of playing the bear into his cabin, Joe tried to get closer up to have a sure mark with his big stone, and the bear, now furious, started to meet Joe. The fish line caught on a bush and pulled taut. That brought the bear up standing.

Old Joe hurled the stone. It landed on the bear's nose. The bear tumbled, and the pole snapped the fish line where it was fast on the bush and socked the hook another twitch into the bear's tongue. The bear was on its feet in a moment and made a rush for Joe.

Tumbled Into the Pool Together.

They clinched, and in the struggle that followed bear and man tumbled from the rock into the pool together. Reaching shallow water, Joe succeeded in getting a stone from the creek bottom, and with that he was combating the bear with great effort when he discovered that in the struggle they had come to the edge of a waterfall at the lower end of the pool. Over they went, bear and man, into the whirling water twenty feet below. The water there was very swift, and Joe and the bear were swept along with it over another cataract a short distance below.

When Joe got his bearings in that turbulent whirl of water he made for a shelving rock on one side of the pool, but the bear made for it too. Joe got to it first. It was a jutting shelf not more than three feet side and six feet long, wet and slippery. Clambering upon it, Joe prepared to fight the bear off the best he could. The bear began to climb up, and Joe gave it a tremendous kick with his heavy cowhide boots square in the face. The force of the kick was more than the wet and slippery footing of the rock could endure, and they both slid back into the pool. There was then nothing to prevent their being carried by the force of the current, and they were swept through the narrow canyon and on to a plunge down the third cataract. The descent was fatal to the bear. It fell headlong upon a projecting rock, and its neck was broken. Old Joe landed on top of the bear and escaped serious injury.

THE PLOWMAN.

The plowman as he guides his plow afield
Seems not with dreams to cheer his weary way.
His toilsome day seems but to yield
Him pain and sweat and clods of yellow clay.

The sky above smites down like blazing brass;
Rough clods and stones afflict his weary feet.
He follows wearily the heaving plow.
And groans with panting beast beneath the heat.

Thus it may seem to those who know not nature's joys,
To him who knows not love of honest work;
The drone in this life's busy hive,
The shiftless, prodigal; the shirk.

The plowman as he guides his plow afield
Looks upward from the furrowed sod,
And as the feathered choirs sing
He draweth near to nature's God.

The plowman as he guides his plow afield
Beholds bright vision of the day
When the ripened grain with waves of gold
Shall cover his toilsome way.

When bulging shocks of golden sheaves
Shall stand on that fresh turned loam;
When the field shall ring as the reapers sing
The glorious harvest home.

KURIOS FROM KORRESPONDENTS.

Q. Is it necessary to sew the incision in caponizing? How are they generally prepared for table? What is best market? A. No. Roasted. Hotels and restaurants.

Q. About what is a fair average weight for eggs per dosen? A. Twenty-three ounces.

Q. How may I clean brooder lamp burners easily? A. Boil them with raw potatoes.

Q. My ducklings are bothered with sore eyes, the lids gum together and the disease has killed twenty of them. Please prescribe. A. Your quacks are not sick, but the drinking vessels are so shallow they cannot dip in over the eyes.

Q. I have had so much trouble with my chickens digging up the potatoes and eating them. How do you prevent this? A. With a fence. Our neighbor, a preacher, plowed down sod, planted potatoes and let the chickens run the patch. When the tubers were large as walnuts the chickens started to dig the rows, and an examination showed lots of white grubs that were eating the potatoes wholesale. Your chickens are likely after grubs and eating taters on the side. A good coat of salt kills the grubs.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.

Many farmers of Missouri set out millet in the sheaf last winter to save the bobwhites from starving. The state fish and game department paid for the grain.

With all the reports of mortality among turkeys and the death of millions of chicks by the white diarrhea route, the undertaker has no job among the geese. They are certainly easy to raise and easily kept. Many farmers who have quit turkeys are raising rubbernecks, and they know a good thing when they see it.

The egg laying contest at the Missouri experiment station is not an attempt to get high records, but the project is carried on just as any farmer can and should care for his flock to get good results. Such an enterprise is practical, and the bulletin from this egg contest will certainly be helpful.

Emperor William of Germany has purchased two large tracts of land in German Southwest Africa, and Herr Hagenbeck will stock them with ostriches. His aunt, Queen Victoria, was a lover of chickens and was so enthusiastic over some Shanghai roosters that were sent to her from this country that she had a celebrated artist paint their portraits.

Philip Beyer of Danville, Pa., R. F. D., had a gobbler that adopted twenty-five turkey poults last year and raised eighteen of them. This season the old hen hatched twenty and couldn't raise one of them. Here is a mystery for our government appropriation poultry philosophers to unravel.

It's a real pleasure for a lawyer, a doctor, an editor, a preacher to leave their books and brain work and go out and tinker around the chickens. Many professional men keep a bunch of big thoroughbreds, and that hour in the open with the birds keeps that boyish spirit alive and adds to their days.

Hatching eggs from turkeys a year old is one great cause of much mortality among these fowls. We have kept tab on this among the farmers around us. Most of them have tried to raise turkeys year after year from immature stock, and most of them have succeeded in going out of business.

The farmer has the best chance to make good money on poultry, as he raises all his own feed and has plenty of range for his stock. Many western farmers are wise to this, and are coining cash on chickens and turkeys, but many in the east still swing along in the same old rut.

Down in East St. Louis fanciers missed so many fowls that one of them paraded around in a sheet, and ghost stories floating round so scared the colored contingent of hen snatchers that not one chicken has been lifted since.

A fancier in Coatesville, Pa., fastened a $100 bill under his pet rooster's wing to keep his wife from getting the money. The rooster flew over into the next neighbor's yard, and the neighbor extracted the bill and now asks the claimant to prove property. As the fancier didn't note the number of the bill he will likely lose the case and also have to hear his wife gab about it the rest of his life.

HARDLY one person in a million realizes what the modern newspaper represents. The wireless, the cable, the telegraph, the telephone, the electric light, the railroad, the printing press, the typewriter, the linotype, the wood pulp machine and a hundred other agencies are called on by the newspaper.

IT IS TO THE WORLD WHAT THE SENSORY NERVES ARE TO THE BODY, BRINGING INTELLIGENCE OF WHAT HAPPENS IN EACH REMOTE NOOK AND CORNER.

Like the sensory nerves, too, it reports disturbance and pain more forcibly than ordinary happenings so that danger may be averted or correctives applied.

Heart and Lungs.

The action of the heart, lungs and digestive system is involuntary, for the reason that it is indispensable to life and must be carried on under all circumstances. If a man had to think of his heart or had to remember that he must breathe or that his food must digest he would have no time to do anything else, and if by chance he should forget to keep his heart going or his lungs in operation he would fall dead on the spot.

NOTICE OF SALE OF TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH FRANCHISE BY THE CITY OF GLENDALE.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Notice is hereby given that an application has been made to the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, California, for a telephone and telegraph franchise granting the right to construct and for a period of twenty-five years to maintain and operate a telephone and telegraph system for commercial and other purposes along streets, alleys, lanes, highways and other public places in the City of Glendale, County of Los Angeles, State of California, together with the appurtenant rights thereto, hereinafter mentioned; and that it is proposed by said Board of Trustees to offer for sale and grant to the highest bidder said franchise upon the following terms and conditions:

1st. The grantee of said franchise, its successors or assigns, shall in good faith, within four months from the granting thereof, begin the work of erecting and laying telegraph or telephone wires and the erection, construction and extension of the equipment for the business to be conducted under said franchise; and shall within three years thereafter complete the same, and all of the equipment of said system shall be built and constructed in a good and workmanlike manner and of good, substantial material, and the service furnished under said franchise shall be first class in every particular.

2nd. All poles shall be of such size, grade and material and shall be so located and erected as to conform to the instructions and regulations of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

3rd. All wires and cross-arms extending over or along any street, alley, lane, highway or public place shall be not less than twenty (20) ft.) feet above ground; and all of said wires and cross-arms used in said system shall be constructed, placed and maintained in conformity with the instructions and regulations of said Board of Trustees, or its successor; and all telephone lines constructed or operated under said franchise shall have a full metallic circuit.

4th. All conduits shall be placed not less than two (2 ft.) feet under ground, shall be located and maintained so as not to interfere with the traveling business in the use of such streets, alleys, lanes, highways and other public places, nor prevent the proper authorities of said City from improving, repairing, altering, sewering or using the same for any other purpose; and all of said conduits shall be so located, constructed and maintained as to conform to the instructions, rules and regulations of said Board of Trustees, or its successor, of the City of Glendale.

5th. In the event the said grantee, its successors or assigns, shall fail to comply with the instructions, laws and regulations of said Board of Trustees, or its successor, with respect to the location, erection and maintenance of said poles, wires and conduits, within the time prescribed by said Board of Trustees, after the service of written notice so to do upon said grantee, its successors or assigns, or upon the local manager thereof, then said Board of Trustees may immediately cause said poles, wires and conduits to be made to conform to its instructions, rules and regulations, at the cost and expense of said grantee, its successors or assigns, the said cost, together with the penalty of twenty-five (25%) per cent. thereon, the grantee, its successors or assigns, do, by the acceptance of this franchise, agree to pay, upon demand, to the City of Glendale.

6th. The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale expressly reserve the right to require said grantee, its successors or assigns, to remove such poles, wires and other conductors from any portion, or portions, of said City and to place said wires in conduits, and under ground, and to place said poles in the alleys, when in its judgment the public welfare shall require the same; and such change as shall be ordered under this paragraph shall be done by the grantor, its successors or assigns, within such time as may be specified by said Board of Trustees.

7th. The grantee of said franchise, its successors or assigns, shall, immediately after the acceptance of this franchise, furnish to the City of Glendale eight (8) telephones, to be installed at places designated by said Board of Trustees and connected with the telephone system of said grantee, its successors or assigns, and shall change the location of the same when required so to do by said Board of Trustees; and shall maintain and keep the same in good repair and working order during the term of said franchise without expense or charge to the City of Glendale.

8th. The grantee, its successors or assigns, shall, during the term of said franchise, furnish and grant to the City of Glendale the free use of the necessary pins on the top cross-arm of each of the poles erected, or the necessary space in the conduits, maintained under said franchise, for the purpose of stringing or carrying such wires as shall be needed for the use of said City for police or fire alarm purposes.

9th. The grantee, its successors or assigns, shall not, without the consent of the City of Glendale evidenced by ordinance, sell, transfer, assign or lease said telephone, telegraph, district messenger or burglar alarm system, or any part thereof, or any of the rights or privileges authorized or granted in said franchise; shall not at any time enter into any combination, directly or indirectly, with any person, firm or corporation, fixing the rate to be charged for telephone, telegraph, district messenger or burglar alarm services, and no officer, emloyee or manager of the telephone, telegraph, district messenger and burglar alarm system, authorized under this franchise, shall at the same time be in charge of or in the employ of any other telephone, telegraph, district messenger or burglar alarm system, operating in said City.

10th. The grantee, its successors, or assigns, of said franchise shall, during the life thereof, pay to the City of Glendale, in lawful money of the United States, two (2%) per cent. of the gross annual receipts arising from the use, operation o. possession thereof; and this being a renewal of a right or franchise already in existence, the payment of said percentage shall commence with the granting thereof; and it shall be the duty of the grantee, its successors or assigns, to file with the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, at the expiration of one year from the date of the granting of said franchise, and at the expiration of each and every year thereafter during the term thereof, a statement, verified by the oath of the manager or presiding officer of said grantee, its successors or assigns, showing the total gross receipts arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise during the year next preceding, and within ten (10) days thereafter said grantee, its successors or assigns, shall pay to the City Treasurer of the City of Glendale such sum as may then be due by reason of said percentage; provided that any neglect, omission or refusal by said grantee, its successors or assigns, to file said verified statement, or to pay said percentage at the time and in the manner hereinbefore provided, shall in itself work a forfeiture of said franchise and all of the rights of said grantee, its successors or assigns, and said City of Glendale, through its proper officers, agent, or special employees for that purpose, shall have the right to examine the books of said grantee, its successors or assigns, for the purpose of ascertaining the amount that may be due said City on account of said franchise.

11th. In granting said franchise, the City of Glendale reserves the right to fix the rates to be charged for toll and other services rendered by the grantee, its successors or assigns, under said franchise, and the same shall be fixed by the Board of Trustees of said City of Glendale; provided that the grantee, its successors or assigns, shall, during the life of said franchise, furnish, without extra, additional or long distance charge, all patrons and subscribers in the said City of Glendale service connections over and through every other line or lines of the same or any other telephone or telegraph system owned, operated or controlled by said grantee within the corporate limits of the City of Los Angeles, California.

12th. Said franchise shall not be exclusive, but the rights and privileges, or any of them, may be granted by the City of Glendale, in part or in whole, to any other person, firm or corporation.

13th. That each and all of the terms, conditions and provisions of the said franchise are to be kept and performed by said grantee, its successors or assigns, and shall be declared therein to be conditions precedent to the continuation of the rights and privileges therein granted by said City, and the failure by the grantee, its successors or assigns, to keep and perform any one of said terms, provisions or conditions by it to be kept and performed as hereinbefore set forth, and a continuation of such failure after a notice of ten (10) days, in writing, given, to-wit, by said City of Glendale, through its proper officers, shall ipso facto terminate said franchise, and the same, with all rights and privileges therein granted, shall be forfeited, and said franchise shall thereupon be null and void.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids in writing will be received at the office of said Board of Trustees for said franchise up to 8 o'clock p. m. on the 10th day of February, 1913.

That the bids received will be opened at that time; that all bids must be for the payment of a stated sum in gold coin of the United States; and that the franchise will be struck off, sold and awarded to the person, firm or corporation who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, provided, only, that at the time of opening said bids any responsible person, firm or corporation, present or represented, may bid for said franchise a sum not less than ten per cent. above the highest sealed bid therefor, and that said bid so made may be raised not less than ten per cent. by any other responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said franchise shall be struck off, sold and awarded by said Board of Trustees to the highest bidder therefor in gold coin of the United States, and provided further that the Board of Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Each sealed bid must be accompanied with cash, or a certified check, payable to the City Treasurer of said City, for the full amount of said bid, and no sealed bid will be considered unless said cash or check is enclosed therewith; and the successful bidder must deposit at least ten per cent. of the amount of his bid with the Clerk of said City before said franchise will be struck off to him, and if he shall fail to make such deposit immediately, his bid will not be received and will be considered as void, and said franchise will then and there be offered for sale to the bidder who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, subject to the same conditions as to deposit as above mentioned. Said procedure will be had until said franchise is struck off, sold and awarded to a bidder who shall make the necessary deposit of at least ten per cent. of the amount of his bid, as herein provided. Said successful bidder shall deposit with the City Clerk within twenty-four hours after the acceptance of his bid the remaining ninety per cent. of the amount thereof, and in case he or it fails to do so, then the said deposit theretofore made will be forfeited, and the award of said franchise will be void, and said franchise will then and there, by said Board of Trustees, be again offered for sale to the highest bidder therefor, in the same manner and under the same restrictions as hereinbefore provided, and in case said bidder fails to deposit with the City Clerk the remaining ninety per cent. of his bid within twenty-four hours after its acceptance, the award to him of said franchise will be set aside, and the deposit theretofore made by him will be forfeited, and no further proceedings for the sale of said franchise will be had until the same shall be re-advertised for sale.

Notice is also hereby given that the successful bidder for said franchise must, within five days after said franchise is awarded to him or it, file with said Board of Trustees a bond running to said City in the penal sum of One Thousand Dollars, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by said Board of Trustees, conditioned that said bidder shall well and truly observe, fulfill and perform each and every term and condition of said franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of said bond, the whole amount of the penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond. If said bond be not so filed, the award of said franchise will be set aside, and any money paid therefor will be forfeited.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

That Glendale is an ideal town for persons desiring to establish a home cannot any longer be questioned. The schools for our children are unsurpassed, and the literary clubs for our wives and sisters are progressive and helpful. And now we learn that Robert Crandall, president of the Los Angeles Camera Club, will lecture upon "Color Photography" in the K. of P. hall on Jan. 9. The Los Angeles Evening Express calls Mr. Crandall (who will illustrate with results of his experiments along this line) a "wizard of the dark room."

Mrs. Myrtelle Decker Abbott's announcement card will be found elsewhere in the NEWS. This lady has had the benefit of several years of European study in her art and has also received instruction from some of the best American teachers, among them Ellen Beach Yaw. In Paris she studied under Lucien Berton of the Conservatoire and Madame Adiny-Milliet of the Grand Opera, taking also piano work from Mlle. Alphonsine Rebay. In England Mrs. Abbott appeared in concert and recital, receiving many complimentary notices. She has taught in Los Angeles several years and her methods are said to be more than usually successful in developing perfect tones.

ANOTHER REDUCTION IN COST OF SCHOOL BOOKS.

Sacramento, Dec. 30.—When in June of this year the state board of education, on the recommendation of state printer Friend W. It seems that this was not the case, for during the last two months Richardson has been able to cut the former cost 42 per cent.

COLDS AND THEIR CURE.

So many people are suffering from "colds" just now that the common sense advice given by Dr. Leon Patrick in the West Coast magazine seems to us worth quoting. As to the cause of colds, he says:

"All intelligent physicians know that eating beyond the digestive capacity over clothing and ill ventilation enervate the body and keep the alimentary canal in a state of fermentation and the consequent absorption of toxins therefrom lays the foundation for the "catching cold" habit. Attention is called to the fact that the class of people who suffer most from colds are those of sedentary habits, housewives and others, while those who live in the open air are comparatively immune. The doctor does not say so, but he might well have added that colds are among the most contagious of fevers, one member of a family frequently introducing it to run through the household, this being noticeably the case where poor ventilation is the rule of the house. The doctor hits the "night air" bug-a-boo a hard and well deserved blow, summing up in the opinion that "night air is as good as dry air." That fraudulent old proverb which advises to "stuff a cold," is also dealt with but not as severely as it deserves. A cold is an incipient fever and as such should not be fed, except with fruit or fruit juices for from twenty-four to forty-eight hours. The bowels and other organs must be kept working and warm water enemas are recommended.

TROPICO

Visor lodge, No. 293, K. of P., of Tropico, will have a joint installation of Pythian Sisters on Monday evening, Jan. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ungerland of Oakland, who are passing some time in Southern California, passed Monday evening with Harry Marple at his home on West Palmer avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Weston of West Park avenue are enjoying a week's outing at Elizabeth Lake as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Chandler, who are engaged in the restaurant business at that place.

Quite a number of the residents of this place attended the New Year's dancing party given by the Elks lodge of Glendale at the lodge's headquaretrs in the Central building on Broadway. They report an enjoyable time.

Robert Taylor, who attended the convention of the I. O. G. T. at San Diego last week as a delegate from Merrill lodge of Los Angeles, has returned to his home on Palmer avenue. Mr. Taylor is Past District Chief Templar in the Good Templar lodge.

Peter L. Ferry has been awarded the contract for the street work on Park avenue, which has been delayed for about a year. It is understood that this work will start in the very near future, and that when started it will be rushed to completion.

Mr. and Mrs. Joy Goodsell, in company with the boy scouts of the Tropico Methodist church, gave vent, to some of their superfluous energy in a hike up Mt. Wilson several days last week. They claim they had the time of their lives. There were about a dozen in the party.

J. J. Burke is erecting for a Los Angeles party a home of about seven rooms on Moore avenue, just east of Glendale avenue, the home to cost something like $3,000. The first floor of the structure has been completed, and the construction work is being hurried.

The trustees of this city have taken up the matter of regulating the planting of trees on the streets of this place. To this effect the city attorney has been instructed to prepare an ordinance, which will be put into force within a few days. This ordinance will include also the pruning and removing of the trees.

With the purchase of the recently installed electric lighting system at this place by the Pacific Light and Power Company, the city clerk, on order of the trustees, has requested of the company an itemized statement of the costs and expenses of the lighting system installed under its contract with the city in compliant with the order of the Railway Commission.

A series of special meetings was started in the Methodist church of this place last Tuesday evening under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. Carnes. The first meeting was in the form of a watch night service. At the present time it is not definitely known of what duration the series will be, but it is expected that services will be held for at least two weeks. The publis is invited to attend all of these meetings.

A "watch night" dancing party was given in the Knights of Pythias hall on San Fernando road Tuesday evening by the K. of P. lodge. This was the leading New Year's event at this place and proved to be unusually enjoyable. Until the midnight hour the ladies had their choice in selecting the partners, but after leap year had passed out the choice was again given to the gentlemen. There were about a hundred people present.

Mr. and Mrs. Eames, recently of the East, but who for the past several weeks have been living in Los Angeles, have purchased the pretty little bungalow on Boynton street which is just being finished by the builder, Charles M. Retts. The home is modern throughout, and contains five rooms, bath, den and screen porch. It has many unique built-in features, and has a large cement front porch. The home is situated on a lot 47x237 feet and is located in a rapidly growing section.

The city of Tropico comes out on the long end as far as the franchise for the pipe line just laid through this city is concerned. The company installing this line paid into the city treasury the sum of $1,000, and the franchise reads that the company shall pay into the Tropico city treasury each year for the forty years of the life of the contract the sum of $250, together with whatever the excess of 2.5 per cent of the gross earnings of the line over and above that amount. A few more contracts of this kind would offset the expense of the local city government.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marple entertained at their cozy bungalow on Boynton street Wednesday evening with a New Year's party. A frankfurter and potato roast was held in the ravine at the rear of the home, after which a bounteous "camp dinner" was served in the open air. The guests present included Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rigg, Misses Alice and Hilda Rigg, of Los Angeles; Mr. Harry Foote, of State Center, Iowa; Mrs. Fannie Marple, Messrs. Joseph, Harry and William Marple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Retts, of this place, and Mr. and Mrs. Maranville, of Glendale.

D. O. Martin is in conjunction with his son-in-law, W. E. Burk, erecting a business block on the San Fernando road just south of the Gabaig block. The foundation for the building was laid this week, and the structure will be rushed to completion. The building will be of two stories, and will contain two store rooms on the main floor, with offices above. The ground space of the block is 45 by 64 feet, and it is expected that it will cost in the neighborhood of $8,000. It is understood that already several parties have made efforts toward the leasing of the store rooms, but as yet nothing has been done by the owners in that regard.

A RAVINE FRANKFURTER ROAST.

A unique and unusually pleasing social affair was given on Thursday of last week by Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Latter of Boynton street to a number of their young friends of the Baptist church of Glendale. The affair was a Christmas party given in the ravine at the rear of the Latter home. The early part of the evening was passed around the glowing camp fire, where stories were told and games played. At about 6:30 o'clock the sport of roasting frankfurters was begun, after which a repast consisting of beans, potato salad, potato chips, sandwiches, the roasted frankfurters and coffee was enjoyed. Until quite a late hour the young people sat by the glowing fire. Those enjoying the evening were Misses Edna and Edith Alley, Fay and Elda Stanhard, Ruth Sanford and Doris Latter; Messrs. U. S. Schifield, Fred Sanford and Harold Latter; Mr. and Mrs. Latter.

On Tuesday evening of this week another ravine party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Latter, the affair being to watch the old year out and the new year in. This affair was also the birthday anniversary of Mr. Latter. The guests present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Latter, William Latter, Misses Nellie and Mabel Latter, Norman Latter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sanderson, Mrs. T. P. Latter and son Archie, all of Los Angeles.

WEST GLENDALE

Mrs. Lena Bridges and daughter, Miss Jessie, of Long Beach, were Christmas guests of Mrs. Laura Scamman, 1222 Burchett street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Mortensen and Mr. R. W. Dederding of Brand boulevard, Tropico, spent Christmas with Mr. Mortensen's brother, Dr. Mortensen of The Palms.

Mr. Hay and George Todd have returned from a very pleasant week's visit to San Francisco, where they enjoyed themselves to the utmost. The trip was made by boat, and was a most delightful one.

One item that was omitted in the rush of Christmas festivities was the arrival of a fine boy in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Booth of 1501 West Seventh street. A Happy New Year to all, and apologies for the tardy announcement.

Miss Clara Midcalf entertained her Sunday school class at her home, 1520 Oak street, with a Christmas party on Friday last. A pleasant afternoon was spent, with music, games, etc. Each one was presented with a dainty gift as a Christmas remembrance from their teacher.

The many friends of Mrs. L. G. Dodge, who was removed to Dr. Thompson's hospital on Christmas day after having been critically ill at her home on Broadway for a number of weeks, will be glad to hear of her steady improvement in health. She is gaining strength daily, and before a great while expects to be home again.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Ludlow of Burbank entertained with an elaborate five-course turkey dinner at their home on Friday evening. After dinner the evening was most enjoyably spent with music, games and a general good time. Guests from Glendale were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Russ and son, Mrs. Laura Scamman, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Elliott and family. Miss Leadith Hanley of Burbank was a guest also.

A QUIET HOME WEDDING.

On Tuesday, Dec. 31, 1912, at 1 o'clock, Miss Clara Story, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Story, was united in marriage to Mr. George Peters. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Dr. Mills, present rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, took place at the bride's home, 1720 West Broadway, and was witnessed by members of the immediate family only. After the sumptuous wedding supper had been served, the happy couple departed in their auto for a short trip, after which they will make their home with the bride's parents. Laetr on, Mr. Peters will erect a new home adjoining that of Mr. Story, where the young couple will begin housekeeping.

DEATH OF A. J. HALLIHAN.

Mr. A. J. Hallihan of Glendale, who went to Arizona a few months ago for the benefit of his health, died on Saturday, Dec. 28. For some little time he improved wonderfully, and the hopes of his family were raised, but the dread disease took a sudden turn, and he failed rapidly until the end. Mr. Hallihan was the son-in-law of S. J. Willett, and when in Glendale, together with his wife and little baby of less than a year, made his home at 1010 Lomita avenue. He was only 24 years old, and married Miss Willett, a beautiful young girl of 18 years, about two years ago.

He was a young man well liked by everybody, and the sympathy of the community goes out to the young widow and family. The body was sent to Illinois for burial in the family plot, and was accompanied by his mother. Mrs. Hallihan, the widow, returned to Glendale on Tuesday morning, and with her little baby will make her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Willett, 1010 Lomita avenue.

Judge E. Rockwood Hoar, remarking on President Lincoln's dry humor, said that on one occasion a delegation of negroes had waited on Mr. Lincoln and were evidently at a loss to know just what to say. The president waited awhile and then remarked:

"Well, all who are here seem to be present."

This self evident proposition broke the ice and removed the spell from the African jaw.
